About Brownman:

Born on the small Caribbean island of Trinidad, schooled in New York City under Randy Brecker's watchful eye and now heralded as "Canada's preeminent jazz trumpeter" by New York City's Village Voice magazine, Brownman is now widely considered a vanguard for the evolution of Canadian jazz. He has been on the cutting edge of modern music in Canada, winning multiple awards nationally and achieving international recognition while touring the globe as the featured soloist for legendary New York City jazz-hip-hop ensemble GURU's JAZZMATAZZ (of Gangstarr fame). This dynamic Trinidadian-born trumpeter is a NYC-schooled protégé of his teacher, multiple Grammy-winning trumpet legend Randy Brecker. In the spirit of the supreme trumpet genre-crossing visionaries such as Brecker and Miles Davis, he tirelessly leads and composes actively for no less than 7 bands if his own and is a musical director and/or featured soloist in countless others. One of Canada's top session calls for both Universal and Sony/BMG recording studios in forms of music ranging from bebop to hip-hop, Brownman has just under 300 recording credits to his name, and is one of the most in demand trumpeters in the country. He has been called "the most versatile hornman in Canada" by the Chicago Tribute and "one of the next great voices in jazz improvisers" by Randy Brecker himself.
